

Teacher of the Year

The Arizona Farm Bureau Teacher of the Year award is designed to recognize an educator's efforts to incorporate agriculture and natural resources into the school curriculum both in K-12 classrooms or in Agriscience Career and Technical Education programs.

A qualified educator is one that works to integrate basic agricultural concepts into their lessons while meeting school curriculum objectives, as well as a teacher who has developed their student's problem-solving skills through the analysis of agricultural issues and information using creative teaching techniques or methods.

The Arizona Farm Bureau Teacher of the Year will receive a scholarship to attend the National Ag in the Classroom Conference in Minneapolis, MN (June 23rd-26th) sponsored by the Arizona Foundation for Ag Literacy. The winner will also receive a $500 classroom grant to continue teaching agriculture in their classroom provided by the Arizona Farm Bureau Ag in the Classroom program and will be submitted for the National Excellence in Teaching about Agriculture Award.

The deadline to apply is November 8th.

Winner will be announced December 1st.

Application Requirements and Instructions

Teachers must demonstrate integration and utilization of agricultural information within their classroom curriculum in an effort to assist students in learning the importance of agriculture. Applicants must demonstrate use of the National Agricultural Literacy Outcomes: understanding the importance and value of agriculture in students' daily lives; understanding the relationships among agriculture, food and fiber production, animals, health, energy systems, technology, economics, and the environment; identifying and understanding the connections between academic content areas and agriculture careers including, but not limited to, STEM careers; understanding the overall connectedness between STEM and agriculture, Innovative, integrated, and interdisciplinary programs are encouraged. <https://cdn.agclassroom.org/nat/data/get/NALObooklet.pdf>

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Does the size of my school or class weigh into the scoring for the award? An educator from a small school has an equal chance to win as one from a large school.
2. Can we turn in an application for a group or Team of teachers? No. The Educator of the year award is given to an individual teacher to recognize his/her efforts.
3. What if I am selected as the Educator of the Year and can not attend the National Ag in the Classroom Conference in June. Can I defer my award to next year? No. The NAITC Scholarship is only good for the year in which it is awarded.
4. If I have applied for the Educator of the Year award before, can I apply again? Good news. This is the first year of the program so you shouldn't run into this problem. Teachers are permitted to apply for multiple years. However, once you have won the award you will no longer be eligible.
5. Do I have to be a public-school educator to apply? No. All K-12 classroom educators (excluding University, Extension, and NRCD educators) are encouraged to apply.
