

Mortimer Farms

Mortimer Farms is in Dewey, Arizona. Sharla and Gary Mortimer operate the farm along with their children and staff. Gary and Sharla purchased their farm and ranch in 2003. “We loved growing up in and around agriculture,” says Sharla. “We wanted to give our children this experience as well. We started by finding a great property and continue it with lots of hard work!”

The Mortimer family grows over 40 varieties of fruits and vegetables. They grow strawberries, blackberries, sweet corn, tomatoes, peppers, garlic, potatoes, onions, and lots of other garden vegetables. But pumpkins are their largest crop. They grow 90 acres of pumpkins each year and produce nearly 200,000 pumpkins! The neat part is that not all the pumpkins are the same. They grow over 50 varieties of pumpkins. Some you might be familiar with are the warty, Cinderella, giants, pink, blue, jack-I-lantern, and sweet pie.

Between running Mortimer Farms and Mortimer Nursery, Sharla enjoys life on the ranch and cooking family recipes in her kitchen. Above all, she loves being with her four kids.

An entrepreneur by nature, Gary has started more successful small businesses than you could count on both hands, including Mortimer Nursery (a local garden and landscaping company), pivot irrigation, cattle AI services, and multiple other companies.

Kolten Mortimer works with his parents on the farm. He loves all of the technology that he gets to work with on the farm!

Ashlee Mortimer serves as the Chief Marketing Officer at the farm. Social media, marketing, and anything and everything at the farm Ashlee has her hands in.

Kayla Mortimer has opened a spa at the farm where guests can come for haircuts and other services.

Hayden Mortimer is currently away from the farm serving our great Country in the US Army.
